

ELWELL AT DANCE HALL BEFORE MURDER; TAKEN TO HIS HOME IN AN AUTOMOBILE

TO-NIGHT'S WEATHER—Thunder storms.

To Be Sure of Getting
The Evening World,
Order in Advance from
Your Newsdealer :: ::

The Evening

World.

TO-MORROW'S WEATHER—Thunder storms.

FINAL EDITION

"Circulation Books Open to All."

"Circulation Books Open to All."

VOL. LX. NO. 21,459—DAILY.

Copyright, 1920, by The Press Publishing
Co. (The New York World).

NEW YORK, TUESDAY, JUNE 15, 1920.

Entered as Second-Class Matter
Post Office, New York, N. Y.

PRICE TWO CENTS

THREE CENTS
ELSEWHERE

INSPECTOR HENRY SENTENCED FROM TWO TO FIVE YEARS AT HARD LABOR FOR PERJURY

Justice Weeks Makes Penalty
Light as Possible in View of Long Police Service.

WIFE WEEPS IN COURT.

Accused Calm as He Denies Making Statements That Led to Conviction.

Justice Barlow S. Weeks in the Criminal Branch of the Supreme Court to-day sentenced Inspector Dominick Henry, formerly in charge of the Fourth Inspection District, to not less than two nor more than five years at hard labor in Sing Sing. Henry was convicted last Friday of perjury.

In imposing sentence Justice Weeks declared that he had made the sentence as light as possible in view of the long and exemplary service rendered by Henry in his thirty years in the police force without a charge against his record.

Col. William Rand, Special Assistant Attorney General, speaking in court just prior to the imposition of the sentence declared that the Mayor, Commissioner of Accounts Hirschfeld and Police Commissioner Enright "are in no small measure responsible for the occasion, which now calls for the judgment of this court upon the defendant."

Col. Rand also declared that Hirschfeld, Hyman and Enright "had forced the defendant into the position in which he found himself when he was guilty by a mistaken sense of loyalty to his superior officers."

In moving for the execution of judgment Col. Rand added that there was no personal gain for Henry in what he had done.

The court was crowded with police officials, detectives and city officials when Inspector Henry, accompanied by his counsel, Bourke Cockran, entered and took his stand at the bar. A few moments later Mrs. Henry, accompanied by Father James Coogan and the Rev. Dr. Wade, Police Chaplain, entered the court room and took a seat not far from her husband. During the address of lawyers and Court, Mrs. Henry bore up well, though she wiped her eyes with her handkerchief from time to time.

(Continued on Third Page.)

RESOLUTE LEADING IN 8TH TRIAL RACE

Breeze Gives Promise of Increasing —Windward and Leeward Course.

NEWPORT, R. I., June 15.—The trial race between Resolute and Vanitie for the honor of defending the America's cup against Shamrock IV, were resumed here today after the Resolute had had two days of overhauling.

As a five knot southwest was blowing at the lightship when the committee arrived, the signals were hoisted for a windward and leeward race, the yacht speeding away on time. The Resolute won the honors at the start, for although crossing the line a trifle astern, she went to the windward, both boats going over on the starboard tack.

The breeze gave every prospect of increasing and it looked like a good test. One-half hour after the race started the Resolute was still leading by a couple of hundred yards.

GLORIA CARUSO, REPORTED GUARDED FROM KIDNAPPERS

HIS WINE STORE NOT PRIVATE HOME

Brooklyn Man Convicted of Volstead Act Violation May Lose
Stock of "Hard Stuff."

John H. Brede, who labelled his wine store "my private residence" and thought he could get away with it, learned his mistake to-day, when a jury in the Federal Court found him guilty of possessing liquors prohibited under the Volstead Act. He was remanded to jail, to be sentenced later by Judge Chaffin.

Brede's "home" was at No. 790 Nostrand Avenue, Brooklyn. It was stocked with wines and liquors which would be worth a fortune now and they were all seized by revenue men. Brede had a chance to get off lightly by pleading guilty. It was said, but he insisted on going to trial, hoping that by an acquittal he would be able to get his good stock back. Now his only chance is by appeal from the verdict.

AMERICAN TENNIS PLAYERS WIN AGAIN

Garland Eliminates Opponent in Second Round for London Championship.

LONDON, June 15.—American tennis players continued their winning play in the second round of the London championship tournament here to-day. C. R. Garland of Pittsburgh eliminated G. R. Sherwell of South Africa in straight sets by scores of 6-2, 6-4. Garland's play was pronounced impressive by the experts who viewed the match. He volleyed superbly and was also very strong on ground strokes.

William M. Johnson of San Francisco, the United States champion, moved forward by default, his opponent in the draw withdrawing. Mrs. Mallory, who before her marriage was Mollie Bjurstedt, also won in the first round of the ladies' championship, defeating Miss Daverton, 6-2, 6-1.

Junior Found Dead From Gas.
William Reese, thirty-five, janitor of No. 243 Columbus Avenue, died at his home from gas poisoning to-day. He was found lying on a couch. It is believed the gas stove was accidentally turned on.

Mrs. (6) Bell-Ann, hot water. Sure relief. For indigestion. Don't forget—Adv.
WORLD RESTAURANT.
Special for 12-15, Tuesday, June 15, 1920.
London broil, French fried potatoes, chicken salad, mayonnaise, etc., table d'hôte dinner, 50c.
14th floor, World Building—Advt.

BABY CARUSO BEING GUARDED IN FEAR OF KIDNAPPERS

Mother Terrified by Detectives' Stories of Cases on Which They Have Worked.

MAID NOW IS SOUGHT.

Servant Employed by Former Owner of House Involved in Big Gem Robbery.

A detail of five picked detectives is on duty at the summer home of Enrico Caruso in East Hampton, L. I., to-day, to guard baby Gloria Caruso against possible kidnapping. Mrs. Caruso's fears were aroused recently when she heard detectives recounting stories of baby stealing cases on which they had worked. When Park Benjamin Jr., brother of Mrs. Caruso, heard of the fright Mrs. Caruso had received, he became indignant and the detectives' quarters were changed to another part of the grounds.

The name of a maid who worked in the present Caruso home while it was owned by Albert Herter was to-day mentioned by police at work on the $500,000 jewel theft as one person they wanted to question. They said she had figured in a Suffolk County gem robbery three years ago. She was seen in the village of East Hampton last Wednesday morning by Attorney Ray Smith.

This procedure is the result of a theory held by about half of the army of investigators who believe that the theft occurred prior to the Tuesday night when the thief alarm sounded. The other detectives scout this claim. They suspect two members of the household.

Enrico Caruso himself has expressed absolute confidence in his employees and because of regard for them the family to-day entered a protest against night cross-questioning of the servants. These seasons have been carried on from 8 o'clock until as late as 4 the next morning.

MYSTERIOUS FLASHES IN THE WOODS ARE TOLD OF.

In the mean time, there are all sorts of thrilling stories circulating among the servants and private detectives on the estate of mysterious flashes coming from the woods and Georgia Lake, believed to be signals of some confederate trying to communicate with the thief, of midnight footsteps heard in various parts of the house, and of Italian "death signs" or secret society signals passed between some of the servants. But nothing tangible has come from them.

George Fitzgerald, who has been chauffeur for Enrico Caruso, the tenor, since 1918, and who fired several shots last Tuesday night in the excitement after the jewel box was stolen, told reporters he had engaged a law firm "to look after his interests." He said he had retained Frederick and Henry E. Gold.

(Continued on Third Page.)

BOOM IN STOCKS UNDER PROBE BY U. S. AUTHORITIES

Sensational Developments
Promised, With Indictments of Score of Brokers.

PUBLIC LOST BILLION.

Oil Issues Chiefly Involved—
Fifty Post Office Inspectors
Brought Here.

The most vigorous campaign ever inaugurated against fraudulent promoters and stock jobbers is now being carried on by Government authorities. Investigations now under way promise to end in sensational developments, including the indictment of more than a score of brokerage firms and individuals.

Since the recent bull stock boom was punctured and issues sold to the public during the past year or more have declined to only a small fraction of their former price, the volume of public complaint to Government authorities has grown so large that drastic action was decided upon.

The campaign against the stock swindling evil was placed in charge of Post Office authorities. Between forty and fifty Post Office inspectors were called to New York from various sections of the country and for the past month they have industriously been checking up statements on which stocks were foisted on the public.

Not only have the Government authorities subpoenaed books of promoters and brokers alleged to have been responsible for the wholesale stock frauds, but it is understood that income tax returns of these promoters and brokers as well as the returns of companies against which stock was issued have been carefully checked up. It is asserted that there has been found to be a startling discrepancy between the income accounts and financial conditions of various companies and the statements issued by brokers purporting to set forth accurately the earnings and financial condition of these companies.

It is learned that the Federal Grand Jury has already secretly handed down several indictments against promoters who are reputed to have built up comfortable fortunes during the promotion boom of the past year, but these will not be issued until the Government's investigation has been completed and other cases are presented to the Grand Jury.

Cases under investigation mostly concern oil stocks, and it is said that there are included in these not only curb issues but the stock of at least one company now traded in on the Stock Exchange and which has had a sharp perpendicular decline.

The investigation of Government authorities tends to confirm recent estimates that the amount of money fished from the public during the past year through fraudulent stock schemes aggregates more than a billion dollars.

INCOME TAX DUE TO-DAY.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Second statements of income and excess profits taxes for 1919, due to-day, will yield the Government $750,000,000. It was estimated to-day by the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

Liberty Bonds
Bought—Sold—Advt.
John Muir & Co., 61 Broadway—Advt.

SLAIN MAN'S MOVEMENTS ARE TRACED UP TO 4.15 A. M.

Viola Kraus at Palm Beach;
She Was Guest at Elwell Dinner

(Photo by Gleiser & Andrews.)

Jealous Husband of Young Woman to Whom Elwell Was Reported Attentive Sought for Questioning —Detectives Sent South.

Assistant District Attorney John E. Joyce believes that he is narrowing the circle of mystery surrounding the murder of Joseph Bowne Elwell, who was slain on last Friday morning in his home, No. 244 West 70th Street. Information received by him traces the movements of the murdered man from the time he left the Lewisohn party until his arrival home.

Mr. Joyce has his men now at work checking up the story. His information is that Elwell, after leaving Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lewisohn, Miss Viola Kraus and Octavio M. Figurea in front of the New Amsterdam Roof, at 2 A. M., walked west along Forty-second Street and went to an all night "trottery" not far from that thoroughfare.

In the dance hall he met two men and a woman, with whom he remained until he left for home. He went to his house in a roadster, arriving there at 4:15 o'clock, more than three hours before he was murdered.

This is the information the police have been seeking and the lack of which has proved one of the greatest stumbling blocks. Mr. Elwell, according to the new revelations had been at home a little more than two hours when the milkman arrived and it is known that he did not retire.

Before night the police expect to know with whom the murdered man went home. This will prove whether he entered the house alone or in company with the person who probably killed him.

Detectives to-day are investigating a clue involving a former Lieutenant in the United States Army. The officer recently sued and obtained a large judgment against a Philadelphia merchant for alienating his wife's affections. According to the detectives, they have received information that Elwell had recently been paying attention to this young woman, and as the husband is of a jealous nature, they are seeking his whereabouts to question him.

CLUES SOUGHT IN RESORTS OF THE SOUTH.
Detectives to-day were started out on five different trails to probe into the recent life of Elwell. Their destinations are Palm Beach, Long Beach, Latonia, Louisville and Lexington, in which resorts and cities the murdered turfman and whist expert spent most of his time for the past several months.

The detectives will endeavor to learn at first hand who were the associates of Elwell and his companions on his trips, and if anything occurred on any of them which might offer the slightest clue to a motive for his murder.

Police investigators, after an examination of Victor von Schlegel, the divorced husband of Miss Viola Kraus, one of the Lewisohn party at the Ritz-Carlton dinner given by Elwell the night before he was slain, announced that they had not yet questioned any one who could shed any light on the crime. The examination of von Schlegel lasted until 3:30 o'clock this morning.

Von Schlegel lives at No. 22 East 63d Street, and has an office in the Equitable Building. According to Assistant District Attorney Joyce, his story was this:

He was at the Ritz-Carlton last Thursday night with a woman from Minnesota, whose name he does not recall. He saw the Lewisohn party and spoke to them, including Elwell. He did not know it was a celebration of his getting a final decree of divorce. He did not even know then that the decree had been granted.

He left at 11:30 and took his companion to her hotel, then drove his car to the garage and went home.

(Continued on Second Page.)

Mrs. (6) Bell-Ann, hot water. Sure relief. For indigestion. Don't forget—Adv.

ACQUITS DEMPSEY OF DRAFT EVASION

San Francisco Jury Finds Champion Not Guilty of Conspiracy.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 15.—Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion was found not guilty of conspiracy to evade the draft laws shortly after his case was submitted to a federal jury here to-day.

LAND THIEF BEFORE JURY.

Mystery in Appearance of Chapman, Handcuffed to Marshal.

There was an unsolved mystery at this afternoon's session of the Extraordinary Grand Jury. A United States Marshal appeared with a prisoner handcuffed to his wrist. The prisoner was taken before the Grand Jury, but for what purpose was not disclosed. It was learned the man was James Chapman, recently convicted in Federal Court on a charge of stealing land worth $125,000 from Government plots and tracts.

Greatest Thrill Yet
By Edgar Rice Burroughs

"TARZAN THE UNTAMED"

Begins In Evening World
To-Day (See Page 20)